

Asociația de Management al Creanțelor Comerciale – AMCC

Bucharest, September 16th 2015

Press release

The 15 companies members of AMCC, covering an estimate of 80% of the Romanian debt collection market, operate following the AMCC Code of Conduct. It was developed and structured in accordance with FENCA - European Federation of National Associations of collection. 16

The Code of Conduct was revised recently and it has strict provisions both in terms of frequency of calls to the indebted and in terms of written correspondence to them. It was drafted in order to provide a detailed and clear understanding of the basic conduct expected from each debt collection company member of AMCC and from the employees thereof.

The Code of Conduct of the Association of Commercial Debt Management - AMCC is available on the website www.amcc.ro and at the headquarters of the members.

A debt collection company must perform all the activities in permanent contact with the debtor, so as to serve the interests of the contracting parties and to act in accordance with the law, in observance of the legitimate rights of the debtor and of the moral principles.

By not paying the debts, the civil circuit and its stability is affected. From the Roman's time, man kind had the need to ensure the stability of the civil circuit. The principle of assuring the stability of the civil circuit is found in all the European legislations, and also in the Romanian one.

“In their activity, the AMCC members are trying to contact the debtors in order to present them payment solutions and to solve amicably the situation of their debts. We support solving amicably and we are trying to find adequate solutions for every person with debts. The AMCC members follow also their internal rules and regulations and the standards and rules of their clients, in addition to the provisions of the Code of Conduct.” says Georg Kovacs, President of AMCC.
